Russ Embassy Officials Were Threat Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is throwing large numbers of Federal Bureau of Investigation agents into the search for the early morning bomber who touched off a blast at the Soviet Embassy.

Scores of FBI men, government demolition experts and Washington policemen have been working over the debris on the embassy grounds since the explosion Wednesday morning.

So far they have not been able to determine—or have chosen not to report publicly—the type of explosive used.

An intensive search is being made for a bushy-haired man seen by a cab driver who was close to the building when the bomb went off on a window ledge. Cabbie Richard E. West told police he attempted to drive after the man, who was on foot, but lost him after he rounded a corner.

West had been turning into an alley by the embassy. Another cab ahead of him was rocked heavily by the blast, losing hub caps, he said.

West said he ran to assist the dazed driver of the other cab but was interrupted by a man in a dark suit who told him to pursue a man West had seen moments before as he pulled into the alley.

The man who addressed him in the alley identified himself but West said he didn't catch the name and remembers hearing only a rank—"Major." Authorities have not identified him more fully.

FBI agents and other investigators on the case have been attempting to find other motorists who might have been driving by the embassy in the hours preceding the blast. Close to the street, the building is easily approached and lacks any sort of wall or high fence.

The State Department said Thursday the life of Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin and other Soviet officials in this country was threatened in an anonymous letter in late January.

Warrant Issued In Plane Hijack

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — An arrest warrant has been issued for Lawrence M. Rhodes Jr., 28, of Welch, W. Va., on charges of hijacking an airliner and forcing its 108 occupants to fly to Cuba.

Rhodes, a native of West Virginia's coal mine region who told acquaintances he was the son of a rich New Mexico man, was accused by the FBI of hijacking the Delta Airlines DC8 Wednesday and kidnapping its occupants. The warrant was issued Thursday.

The FBI said Rhodes was also wanted in the Christmas Eve robbery of a $12,000 coal company payroll in West Virginia's Logan County.

"Rhodes is believed to have been living recently in the Tampa, Fla., area with his wife, Marjorie," said Fred Frohbose, special agent in charge of the FBI in Miami.

Havana Radio, in its account of how Rhodes jammed a pistol beneath a stewardess' ear and forced the captain to divert the Miami-bound plane, listed a St. Petersburg address for Rhodes.

The address belongs to Finley Oliver Ricard, a mortgage broker who said he met Rhodes on St. Petersburg beach recently while he was fishing.

"He did not live with me—never did," said Ricard. "I think he lived somewhere in St. Petersburg."

Ricard said Rhodes represented himself as "the son of a wealthy New Mexico man." He refused to elaborate on how long he had known Rhodes or discuss further circumstances of their acquaintance.

The Cuban government said it was considering Rhodes' request for political asylum.

April Draft Calls 48,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today ordered the drafting of 48,000 men in April, the highest such call in 18 months.

The April call will provide about 4,000 men for the Marines, the first time in about two years that the Corps has drawn on the draft.

The other 44,000 to be inducted will serve in the Army.

Police Get New Riot Equipment

ROYAL OAK (AP)—Police in this Detroit suburb have begun carrying Chemical Mace, which temporarily disables those it is sprayed on.

The chemical has become a part of the standard protective equipment of policemen. Officers also have begun wearing hard helmets and also carry so-called riot batons, which are long wooden billy clubs.

Callup—may differ from proposals by the Army and the other services for solving the problem.

48,000 Call Expected

National Guard sources said they anticipated a call-up of up to 90,000 Guardsmen and reservists, but other sources discounted such an estimate as premature.

Word of the JCS proposal leaked out as the chief of the chairman, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, arrived in Vietnam after an unannounced flight from Washington for a visit expected to last several days.

Wheeler told newsmen in Saigon his purpose in making the trip was to get first-hand information on the war's course—in information that presumably would include future troop requirements.

President Johnson has said the United States will up its troop ceiling—now set for 525,000 by July 1—if a larger force is needed.

Reduction Protested

A number of high-ranking members of congressional committees dealing with military affairs have recently bemoaned what they say is a reduction to dangerously low levels of forces based in the United States.

Such forces, ostensibly for use in emergencies that might arise around the world, were further reduced by last week's presidential order sending 10,500 Army paratroopers and Marines to Vietnam on a speeded-up deployment basis to meet a West-morland request.

In another Vietnam-related development, Robert S. McNamara speedily accepted Sen. J. W. Fulbright's request to make public the secretary of defense's full congressional testimony on the Gulf of Tonkin incident.

Romney, Nixon Urge: No Wars

By The Associated Press

Gov. George Romney and Richard M. Nixon, political opponents for the moment, both are urging that the United States try to limit itself to the role of concerned bystander in future wars.

In a speech Thursday at a women's college in Hooksett, N.H., the Michigan governor called for establishment of a 10,000-man United Nations peacekeeping force that would be sent to "low-level conflicting situations" to try to prevent them from blossoming into full-scale wars.

The United States could help by supplying equipment and training assistance, Romney said, adding: "I would think it advisable for the U.S. to contribute technical personnel for such purposes, rather than combat troops, to this standing force."

In his basic message that direct involvement is to be avoided, Romney's proposal was similar to things Nixon has been saying repeatedly on the primary campaign circuit.

"In Korea and Vietnam," the former vice president has said, "we furnished most of the arms, most of the men and most of the money. In the future if a nation is attacked and requests American help we should give them the assistance to fight for themselves—but we should not do the fighting for them."

Nixon returned to New Hampshire today after two days of campaigning in Wisconsin, his second foray into that state. New Hampshire's bellwether primary is March 12, Wisconsin's April 2.

In Washington, Republican governors who hoped one of their number would be given a co-chairmanship on the platform committee at this summer's GOP national convention found Thursday they'll have to settle for something less.

GOP national chairman Ray C. Bliss emerged from a meeting of the convention arrangement committee and announced that while the governors will have representation on the platform-drafting group there will be only one chairman.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A 2½-year-old girl flown secretly out of Michigan in a custody dispute will stay with relatives here until the matter is settled in court, according to the relatives' attorney.

In Iron Mountain, Mich., a baby sister said two men carrying what they said was a Kaye order took the girl, Lisa Kaye Gilligan, from a car in the sister's driveway Thursday.

Sheriff Willard Sparpana said the girl was flown from Iron Mountain in a chartered plane.

West Des Moines attorney Stanford L. Trumbower said later the girl was "safe and sound and back in Iowa" in custody of an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Thomas of West Des Moines.

The girl is the daughter of a sailor, Michael Edward Gilligan, in training at Great Lakes, Ill., and has been with him since last Nov. 25. His marriage to Lisa's mother, Betty Peterson Gilligan, was annulled. He is now married to an Iron Mountain high school teacher.

Gilligan originally put the girl in the care of his sister, Mrs. Thomas, when the child was 2½ months old and he was assigned to sea duty.

Guard May Be Called To Meet Manpower Gap

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 50,000 National Guardsmen and Marine reserves would be called up under a plan tentatively proposed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to bridge a Vietnam war-caused home forces manpower gap.

But in sketching details of the JCS plan, sources said Thursday night it is only one of a number of options being considered to reinforce U.S.-based forces depleted by the war's needs for troops.

The sources said the JCS proposal—which also calls for putting on alert another 130,000 or so reservists for possible later

PTA SERVICE AWARD presentations and a talk by Dr. Otto Yntema, Western Michigan University, were highlights of the PTA Founders Day program attended by a capacity audience Thursday night. Change, Challenge Confronting PTA

The Escanaba Area PTA, celebrating the founding of the organization nationally in 1897, was told that it faces times of change and challenge and has a moral obligation to deal with controversial issues.

Dr. Otto Yntema, Kalamazoo, Division of Field Services, Western Michigan University, discussed the role of the PTA in the family and the community at the Founders Day program held in the Area High School auditorium Thursday night. Dr. Yntema, a dedicated advocate of PTA, was the first man to serve as the state president of the organization a few years ago.

The near-capacity audience was welcomed by Mrs. William Savard, the Area PTA Council president; the Rev. Robert Selberg led the PTA prayer; and Luther Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, introduced Dr. Yntema.

Dr. Yntema stressed that he was not speaking for the PTA nor as its representative, but rather as one concerned with the role of the organization in the changing life of the home and the community.

Since the founding of the PTA in 1897 — only 30 years after the Civil War — there have been enormous changes in home and community life. Factors of politics, economics, religion and cultural influence have brought many changes from generation to generation, he noted.

One of every six children was employed in child labor back in 1897, Dr. Yntema said. They worked 12 to 16 hours a day. Families were larger because children were needed to help supply a labor force. Many died young.

Few states in those days had compulsory education laws or if they did have, enforced them. Seventy-five per cent of the children dropped out of school at the fifth grade level.

Problems Of Youth
The condition of the Negro population was much worse. In days of slavery the Negro was bought and sold and bred like cattle. "The Negro knew no family life, he lived in poverty, without family associations," the speaker explained.

"Today there is a great need to get rid of the rural and urban slums, and when we talk of the PTA and its responsibilities we must think of the problems of home and community life for all of our people. The PTA should be concerned. It's our moral obligation if we belong to the PTA," he declared.

Teen-agers of today are the "frustrated generation," he said.

"They are involved in a war they don't understand; they are prohibited by law from working; they can fly planes, run tanks, drop bombs that kill people — but they cannot go into a bar and get a bottle of beer."

Better Example
"Don't misunderstand, I'm not being critical of this war," Dr. Yntema continued. "But teen-agers are intelligent people. The whole world is in front of them. But they can't even get decent jobs."

He noted that at age 18 young men can be drafted into military service but they are denied the right to vote.

He deplored crimes and delinquency in youth and observed: "We can't create a better society unless the older people lead better lives, unless the older people are better examples for the young."

The role of the PTA is a multiple one, he continued, and included is concern for education and all the real problems that accompany the establishing and operating of an educational system.

"If it is to be effective, it must deal with controversial issues, including the question of support for private education," Dr. Yntema said.

It is the responsibility of the PTA to discuss the legislation that is being presented in Michigan, but to remember in the discussion that there are always three sides to a question — "your side, my side — and the right side."

"Let us restrain our opinions and prejudices and discuss the question logically and without emotion — just what we would ask of our young people when they are confronted by problems."

The need for better and more education was described by the speaker, who said that unskilled workers are becoming increasingly unemployable and that "the average high school graduate will be on relief in the 1980's."

Service Awards
The concern of the PTA must be for many things that will educate youth and enrich their lives: "For the welfare of the child in the future revolves around what we do today," he concluded.

The PTA at the Founders Day program presented distinguished service awards to the Rev. Ben Helmer, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; Mrs. Paul Larson, housewife and program chairman of the Lemmer School PTA; and Mrs. Leona S. Erickson, teacher at the Webster School. The presentations were made by Mrs. Leo Niquette, PTA Regional vice president.

A program of songs was given by students of the Lemmer, Webster, Franklin, Washington, Jefferson, Soo Hill, Wells, Cornell, Pine Ridge and Ford River schools. The children were directed by Mrs. M. H. Garrard and Mrs. Beverly Moraco.

Musical selections were presented by Linda Hivala, Mark Setterling, Al Gossan, John Nyquist, Judy Engstrom and Diana Marrier.

Immanuel Elects Officers For '68

At the February council meeting of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, Carl Oslund, 522 S. 17th St. was elected president of the council and congregation. He succeeds Gerald Schleicher who had served for the past three years.

Other officers elected were, Robert N. Jensen, 1509 N. 18th St., vice-president; and Wayne Schmitt, Rte. 1, secretary.

New members of the council who will serve three year terms are, Richard Johnson, Rte. 1; Reginald Rockman, 1306 11th Ave. S.; Sig Erickson, 1126 N. 16th St. and William Johnson, Rte. 1.

At the annual meeting it was noted by President Schleicher that Immanuel had met the three goals set for the year: employment of a parishworker-secretary; exceeding of the benevolence goal of $6,500; and the pledging by the congregation of over $6,700 to LIFE, the higher education appeal of the American Lutheran Church.

Through this program a new building will be constructed at each of the 18 colleges and seminaries of the ALC and additional help will be given to the Lutheran campus ministry at state supported schools such as Northern Michigan University and Michigan Technological University.

Immanuel continues to use the family type worship service in which students attend worship services each Sunday with their parents prior to their class sessions. Adult coffee-forums are also held each Sunday.

Bible Camp attendance reached a high this past summer when 38 of Immanuel's 55 high school students attended camp near Crivitz, Wis. This was one of the best percentages of youth attending camp of any church in ALC. Total congregational giving for 1967 was $53,803. Immanuel has 428 confirmed members.

Welder Training

LANSING (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor reports $47,645 has been appropriated under the Manpower Development Act for a program to train 20 unemployed or underemployed persons from the Marquette area as welders. The 20-week course will be conducted at Northern Michigan University.

Crash Injures Escanaba Man

An Escanaba man who was injured Thursday afternoon when his car struck a utility pole off U.S. 41 north of Rapid River was reported in "fair" condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital.

Joseph O. Gouin, 56, of 1503 N. 18th St., told State Police his car was forced off the road by an oncoming car which veered across the center line.

Gouin's car left U.S. 41 about a half mile north of the U.S. 2 junction at Rapid River. He was taken to St. Francis Hospital by ambulance. The accident happened about 4:10 p.m.

Hospital officials said Gouin suffered a laceration on his chin and other injuries, the extent of which have not been completely determined.

State Police also reported that a car driven by Elaine Babler, Rte. 2, McBain, struck a deer on County Rd. 569 about three miles east of Foster City in Dickinson County. She was not injured.

Traffic summonses Thursday were issued to Raymond P. Bero, 408 N. 9th St., Gladstone, speeding; Ronald K. Towns, Cliff St., Gladstone, improper passing; and Edward J. LeDuc, 1523 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, speeding.

Great Growth Record

North Central Marks 20th Year

MINNEAPOLIS—North Central Airlines will celebrate its 20th anniversary of scheduled airline service on Saturday with a dramatic record of progress.

The company began operating in 1948, with three nine-passenger Lockheed 10A's, and today has a fleet of 52 aircraft which includes 100-passenger DC-9 fan jets. The airline's original route system of 1,028 miles has grown to 7,000 miles and the cities served, from 19 to 90. North Central now carries more passengers in any two days than in the entire year of 1948.

Recognized as the greatest achievement in its 20 years of service to the traveling public is the airline's perfect safety record. Since inaugurating scheduled operations on February 24, 1948, North Central has carried 16,429,000 passengers and flown 2,714,200,000 passenger miles without a single fatality or injury to passengers or crew members.

In the early days, the company made its home in Madison, Wis., and was known as Wisconsin Central Airlines. Passengers carried rose from 11,398 in 1948 to 49,000 by 1950 and employees went from the initial 152 to 230.

Six 21-passenger DC-3's were acquired in 1950; as more joined the fleet, they were gradually converted to 26-passenger aircraft.

The company moved its headquarters to Minneapolis in 1952 and changed its name to North Central Airlines. Early in 1954, Hal N. Carr was elected president, and under his direction North Central achieved its greatest growth.

During 1959 pressurized Convair 440 aircraft were added to the 32 DC-3's.

The jet age arrived at North Central with the introduction of Convair 580 prop-jets and DC-9 fan jets during 1967. The new aircraft were instrumental in helping the airline carry a record 2,347,000 passengers and board 56,670,000 pounds of cargo. Two new metropolitan centers were added to the system as service was inaugurated to Toronto in August and at Kansas City in December, 1967.

To continue its growth, North Central has an extensive route expansion program with applications before the Civil Aeronautics Board for 9,800 more miles, which would add 13 new cities and six states to its 7,000-mile system.

Escanaba Stars In Mead Report Of Growth Plans

Mead Corp., — upon which the Escanaba Area economy depends so heavily — earned less money in 1967 than in 1966, its annual report states, but the report is an optimistic one with special meaning for the Escanaba Area.

President George H. Pringle and Board Chairman H. E. Whitaker in their joint annual report to share owners state that Mead received $633 million for its products and services in 1967, slightly below the previous year and had earnings of 20.4 million compared with $27 million. Per share earnings were $3.05 compared with $4.17, a decrease of 27 per cent.

The reasons for the decline in earnings were Mead's investment in new facilities to expand its capacity and competitive position, and especially the high start-up cost of new facilities.

The big paper making firm during the year added a containerboard mill in Alabama, four converting plants, a Canadian pulp mill and two chemical plants, an unprecedented expansion.

New Financing
To finance its acquisitions and expansions Mead last year liberalized its debt-to-equity ratio and arranged for new bank credit and also privately placed a substantial block of shares of its preferred stock.

"The broadened financial base will permit an aggressive program of backing up our marketing plans with modern, efficient, profitable production equipment," the report states. "The first tangible evidence of the benefit is the new center for publishing papers we are going to create at our Escanaba, Michigan, paper-making complex. It will enable us to serve the socially important and expanding needs of book and periodical publishers with a flexible line of coated papers," J.S. Evans, group vice president for paper and related products, stated in the report. "The big news in our group is that Mead Papers Division is going to build a major publishing center at Escanaba. The decision climaxes a long period of studying market potentials, possible sites, timing financing and personnel requirements.

100,000 Ton Capacity
"When complete—the second half of 1969 is the target date—the new facility will increase our capacity to supply coated paper grades by over 100,000 tons a year.

"The heart of the project is a 300-inch wide paper machine capable of producing coated book and groundwood grades for two markets — periodical publishing, which includes magazines, journals, house organs, government publications, and catalogues, and book publishing, particularly text, reference and trade books.

"A computer process control system will be installed to log data and regulate certain process variables on the machine. An extensive array of supporting equipment is required, including boiler and turbine, water supply and treatment plant, extensive effluent treatment facilities, new offices and quality control laboratory.

"The expansion will add some 200 people to the 600 now employed at Escanaba.

Escanaba Chosen
"We chose the Escanaba site for several reasons. Our present mill has a highly competent work force which can provide the skills we will need for the new operation. More than ample timber resources to sustain papermaking operations of this size are found close by. Escanaba is well situated with respect to the major markets for publishing papers.

"Escanaba's development is a further step in our long-range plan to bring our paper mills to a position of unchallengeable competitive power. An independent survey conducted for us last year has verified our belief that Mead paper enjoy a commanding reputation and market acceptance. We're determined to back that reputation up with superior, low-cost facilities.

"The first step in this plan was the high-speed coating installation at Chillico three years ago, followed by Kingsport's big computer-equipped papermaking center. Escanaba is Step 3 — and we are maturing plans for succeeding developments."

Public Schools In Music Event

The Escanaba Area Public Schools music department will send 115 of its finest musicians to the annual Solo and Ensemble contest to be held Saturday under sponsorship of the Upper Peninsula School Music Association on the campus of Northern Michigan University, Marquette.

They include several piano students and their instructor Mrs. John Chown, a large vocal ensemble, a string ensemble, a clarinet choir, baritone horn solo, three vocal solos, three string solos, an oboe solo, flute solo, and cornet trio.

In the High School division the music department will be represented by the largest entry list of any school in the Upper Peninsula.

In their respective divisions, they include six piano soloists. In the woodwind division, Escanaba Area High School will enter, a flute solo, a flute duet, a flute trio, and oboe solo, a woodwind quintet, a clarinet solo, a clarinet duet, a clarinet choir, a saxophone solo, and a saxophone trio.

In the vocal division there will be sixteen soloists, and two madrigal groups.

In strings the music department will enter eight soloists and two string quartets. The brass and percussion division will hear two cornet solos, two cornet trios, a french horn quintet, a french horn solo, a trombone solo, and two baritone horn solos.

One organ soloist will represent Escanaba Area High School in that division.

Their instructors, John Chown, Conrad Beck, Robert Chase, Mrs. Arol Beck, Mrs. John Chown, and accompanists Mrs. Robert Meyer and Mrs. Clarence Moore and the chaperones will leave the north parking lot of the Area High School at 7:30 a.m. and will return after the 4 p.m. Honors Concert.

Catholic School Aid Meeting Planned Sunday

Two thousand copies of a call for a public meeting on state aid to private schools have been printed for circulation with the church bulletins in Catholic churches of this district on Sunday.

The district embraces Manistique, Gladstone, Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Menominee and communities between.

The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in Holy Name High School gymnasium with Col. James Wren, non-public school education coordinator in Delta and Schoolcraft counties, as master of ceremonies.

Speakers will include: John Frey, Northern Michigan University professor, on the organization of "Citizens for Educational Freedom," which is a co-sponsor of legislation being proposed in the Michigan Legislature to subsidize non-public education like that in the parochial schools of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette.

State Representatives Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee, 108th District) Charles Varnum (R-Manistique, 107th District) and Jack Gingrass (D-Iron Mountain, 109th District).

Rev. Lawrence Gauthier, acting superintendent of Catholic Schools, Diocese of Marquette.

Rodger Murray, non-public school education coordinator for Delta and Schoolcraft counties.

Jacobetti, one of 48 sponsors of the subsidy bill, will explain the legislation.

Col. Wren said that "considerable information and misinformation has been presented on the legislation and parents of the region are being asked to attend and become informed. There will be opportunity for questions."

Interstate

Michigan continues as a leader among the states in completion of the national interstate highway system.

The U.S. Department of Transportation reports that as of Dec. 31, Michigan ranked eighth in percentage and seventh in miles of interstate open to traffic with 837 miles opened or 77.4 per cent of its allotted 1,081-mile system.

LOUISE ROBERGE, assistant cashier of the State Bank of Escanaba, discusses a problem at the Northern Michigan School of Banking with Vance Uhaie, Kingsford. At an awards dinner Thursday evening, 23 graduates received certificates.

Graduate 23 At Banking School

Mrs. Louise Roberge, assistant cashier at the State Bank of Escanaba, was among the 23 who received certificates from the Northern Michigan School of Banking at an awards banquet Thursday evening, Feb. 22, at Ishpeming.

The school, sponsored by Northern Michigan University and Groups I and II of the Michigan Bankers Association, provides four weeks of concentrated study of banking methods, developments, and problems in two, two-week sections over a two-year period.

Miss Roberge completed the first section of the school in 1967 and returned this year to complete the course of study. Classes met in Marquette at the Northland Hotel.

Keynote speaker at the dinner was Robert M. Perry, executive manager of the Michigan Bankers Association. Emcee was Lyle McKinley, executive vice president and cashier of the Citizens National Bank, Cheboygan.

August Brazeau, cashier of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Escanaba serves on the advisory committee of the school.

Others from the Upper Peninsula who graduated Thursday include Graham Widdis, Manistique.

Zoning Change Recommended By Planning Body

The rezoning of a five-acre parcel of land west of the Area Public High School to permit construction of an apartment building was recommended to the City Council by the Planning Commission at its meeting in the City Hall Thursday night.

The tract of land is on 5th Ave. S. and the recommended rezoning is from Class A residential (which permits only one-family dwellings) to Class C, allowing multiple dwellings such as an apartment building.

The Planning Commission also recommended the Council give tentative approval to a preliminary plat of Parkway Estates, which is also in the area west of the High School. The request for the plat is from Real Estate Investors.

A request of Phil & Lee's to purchase city-owned land on the northwest side of the city as a location for a mobile homes site was discussed by the Commission, and it was suggested that Phil & Lee give consideration to approaching the County Board of Supervisors with a request to purchase county land in the same area.

Winston Churchill hailed the Battle of Britain in September, 1940, as "Britain's finest hour."

Big Cedar Coho Planting Urged

The Stephenson Area Chamber of Commerce has urged the Michigan Department of Conservation to add the Big Cedar River to the list of streams scheduled for coho salmon plantings.

The resolution, adopted by the chamber on Feb. 20, states that the department has approved 18 sites for planting cohos in the spring, none of them near Menominee County sports fishermen.

"The Big Cedar River in Menominee County," the resolution states "is strategically located and offers a great potential for a site for coho plantings and the Cedar River area offers the Wells State Park trailer camping facilities, several county parks, resorts, motels, restaurants and other sportsmen's facilities.

"The Stephenson Area Chamber of Commerce respectfully beg the Department of Conservation to make at least a minimum planting of 25,000 coho salmon in the Big Cedar River this spring."

Temperance Commitment Day, Saturday

Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church members will discuss one of the nation's top health problems Saturday, Feb. 24, at 9:30 a.m.—and they will be asked to do something about it!

The problem is alcoholism, currently America's number three public health menace. "With more than 5,000,000 alcoholics in the United States, according to the Yale School of Alcohol Studies, and some 3,000,000 pre-alcoholics who are 'on the way' the church must do something unusual and effective to curb this growing blight on our nation," Pastor L. A. Pomeroy said, in announcing the special service at the local Adventist Church on Saturday.

The service, according to Pastor Pomeroy, is designated as Temperance Commitment

Day and all members of the church will be asked to pledge themselves to a program of enlightened education of others about the public health problem of alcoholism.

"One out of every four mentally disturbed Americans is an alcoholic," Pastor Pomeroy said, "and one out of every seven persons who take their first drink becomes an alcoholic."

Today 10 to 15 per cent of all mental institution beds in the U.S. are filled by alcoholics.

The minister said members of his church will be asked to participate actively in the public information of the church about alcoholism by sponsoring complimentary subscriptions of "Listen" magazine, a church-produced journal which presents scientific facts about the enormity of the alcoholism problem.

London Strikes Again With Look Of 1930's

LONDON—(NEA)—In pulsing Londontowne the lady is a vamp again.

When Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers were dancing to "Top Hat, White Tie and Tails" and Jean Harlow was vamping Ben Lyon in "Hell's Angels," the look was elegantly feminine, elongated and sometimes naughty.

It's that way once again. The year is 1968, but the fashion look unmistakably is the '30s.

Dandy suits, crepe "bathrobe" dresses, sleeveless gangster stripe suits and the vested look is what we've got coming. The look in London is lean, skimp and banded in satin. Little Orphan Annie hairdos and vivid mouths come alive—are in gear.

Clingy Crepes
Fabrics' shining stars are swashbuckling suede and glaze leather, shiny and supple. Also on the designers' cutting tables are flannel, linen, gabardine and bodyhugging satin.

Clingy crepes and fluid jersey. Prins go bold, big and swirly and plaids have adopted princely monickers, are window-checked and come in bigger and bolder than ever. Gangster stripes in black and white are teamed with shocking citrus solids, and accessories are more important than ever and add up to a very total look.

Yes, you'll be it, baby, in your Bonnie beret. You've triggered the look of then and now if you cotton to low down pleats, flip sash and sensational slouch. You're soft, you're curvy, you're all snazz. Your tootsies are front-tied in spectator shoes and if you're not wearing Bonnie's beret, Biba, the psychedelic boutique in Knightsbridge, features Clyde's fedora perched on hat racks in yellow, purple and vibrant pink that are banded in striped grosgrain.

Bib Ties
Plush vests, and wide-wide "her" neckties (that could be your infant's bib) team well with maxi wool skirts and culottes. Wide-wale corduroy or coachman coats add snugly warmth to the outfit, but the faded satin shawl collars New York definitely is not ready for.

The dresses at Biba's have high funnel necks, turtle or polo necks and long-pointed "monk" type collars. The naughtiness is found in cutout backs or plunging Vs in front . . . not to dare mention the see-through voiles, laces and eyelets worn over a body stocking. They're so sweetly demure, covered to the neck and long sleeves, don't you know, they come on like gangbusters. And in London not even a tea cup is dropped. That's keeping your cool.

Wide Belts
Suits are taking on a new swinging shape. Anything but the conventional man-tailored tweed. Short-cropped dressmaker jackets and dirndl skirts are held together and cinched with wide, wide belts. A new image is cropping up in the schoolboy Bermuda suits. Some feature epaulette shoulders and shirt-style jackets and some have the added plus of a skirt.

Oxford Street coats are widely belted and buckled and collars are wide-notched, with pockets flapped and stitched. Plush coats in spots and stripes simulate jaguar and tiger and the feel is supersoft. So nice to cuddle by, luv.

The coats at Bus Stop, another great boutique, feature gray wool of reftercoachman style in the marvy maxi mood. Velveteens in bitter chocolate and claret are very Edwardian in feeling and mini in length. Very few minis are making the London scene these days, however. It seems to be a style past. In Paris, on the other hand, they're still going strong.

Dowdy

The really fashionable dresses in the British Empire (London in particular) are dowdy at first glance but simply smashing after further consideration. You know the type, ducks . . . similar to what the Royal Family has been wearing for years.

They run the gamut from peppery tweed culotte maxi dresses to lame and crushed velvet. Crepes crash the scene with boxpleated skirts, and long sleeves that have ugly little gathers where the sleeve seam meets the dress at the shoulder.

London has made points once again, as a style center. Watching the birds in their maxis fly down Regent Street, you are very much aware, that it all works. And that's what really matters.

Hot water costs less with Gas.

Today you need more hot water than ever before. And you can have it. All the hot water you want. Oceans of it. Hot as you like. For just pennies a day with Gas.

Only Gas gives you so much hot water for so little. Saves dollars over electricity. In fact, a Gas water heater turns out more hot water in one day than an electric one twice its size.

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

Milliken Urges Pollution Push

LANSING (AP)—Acting Gov. William Milliken Thursday urged Michigan's city officials to get behind the administration's massive program to battle water pollution.

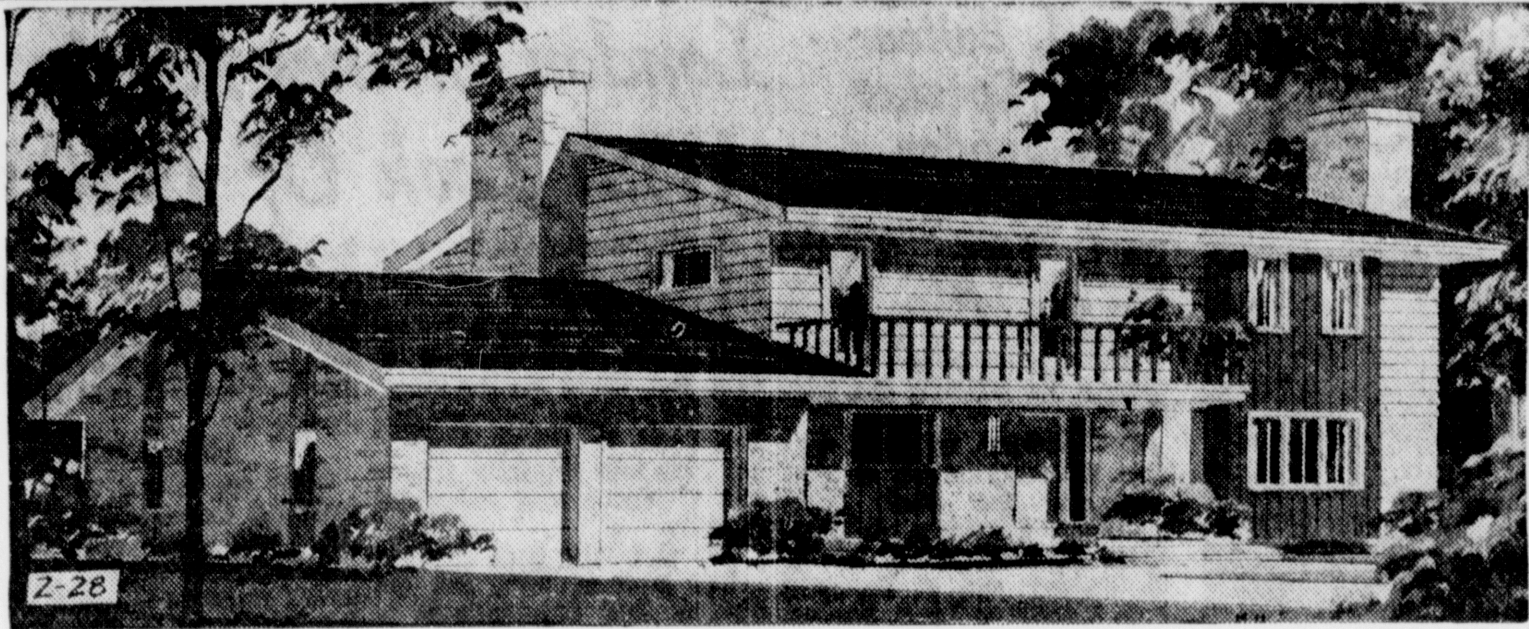

"Our goal, by 1980," Milliken told the Michigan Municipal League, "is to establish firm pollution control in Michigan."

This, he said, will involve 210 new municipal treatment plants, building sewers for an additional 3.5 million people, and improving 126 existing sewage treatment plants.

The cost of the program, recommended by Gov. George Romney, has been estimated at $1.2 billion, of which the state's share would be $335 million.

The administration has proposed that the state's share be financed by means of a bond issue.

The proposed bond issue, plus federal financing, would pay 75 per cent of the cost of building new disposal plants and interceptors and of improving existing plants to provide secondary treatment facilities for all municipalities, Milliken said.

SIMPLE HARMONY: Although of contemporary design, this house is not "far out." It combines wood and stone in a pleasing blend of materials and color, giving it an air of quiet distinction and making it a welcome addition to any neighborhood.

Two-Story With A Balcony

By ANDY LANG

Contemporary form and detail have been utilized to produce a simple but effective exterior for this four-bedroom, two-story house.

An immediate, eye-catching feature is a railed balcony across the front and accessible from the master bedroom on the second floor. The deck of the balcony is carried across at the same height as the cornice of the garage roof, adding length by its horizontal line. Next to it is a projecting front bay, accented by vertical boards to bring over-all balance to the design. Moving inside we find a conventional floor plan which, however, includes many of the features that the architect, Herman H. York, tells us he finds in demand throughout the country. A few of these are:

1. A well-designed front door with covered entry.
2. A spacious foyer with open handrail stair.
3. An immediate long view of the living room with a fireplace centered on the far wall.
4. A kitchen with a U-shaped counter and a broom closet.

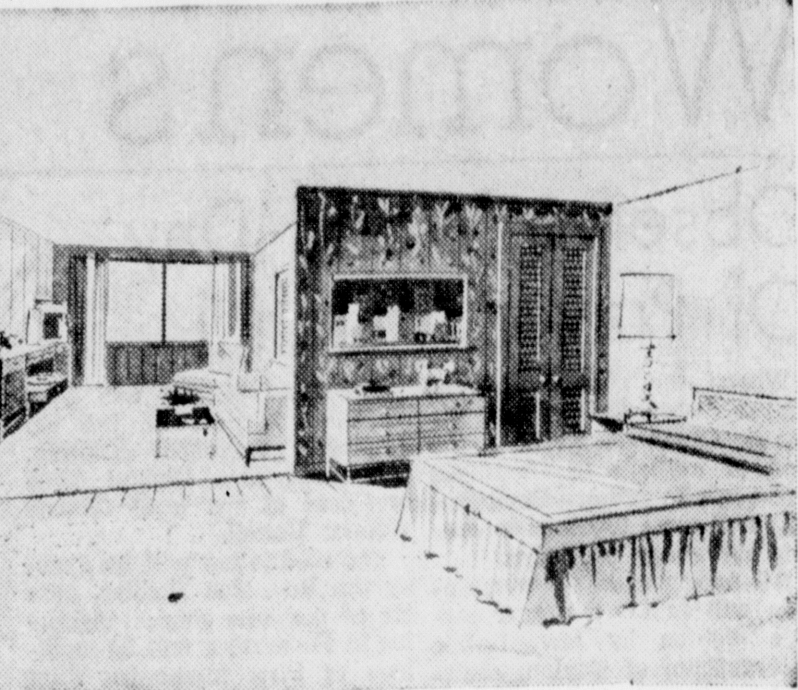

Z-28 STATISTICS

Design Z-28 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast room, rumpus or family room, study and foyer on the first floor, totaling 1207 square feet. On the same floor is a laundry area, lavatory and two-car garage with a giant storage area. There are four bedrooms, a fireplace sitting room and two bathrooms on the second floor, totaling 1248 square feet. The over-all dimensions are 65' by 31' 2". The plans call for a full basement below the main portion of the house.

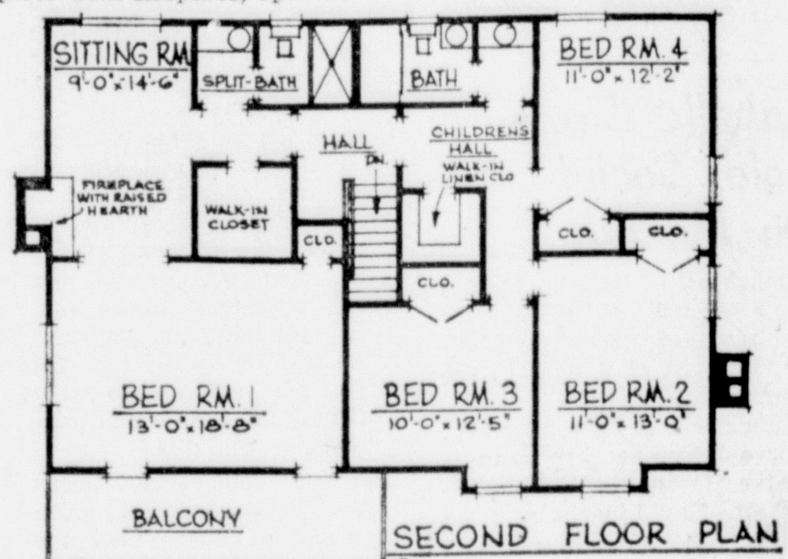

5. An eating area for breakfast and afternoon coffee and snacks, with a view of the rear yard or terrace.
6. A family room, designated on the floor plans as a rumpus room, with a fireplace and raised hearth visible from the kitchen and coffee area.
7. Sliding glass doors from the rumpus room to the rear terrace, easily accessible from the kitchen for outdoor dining.
8. A service complex between the kitchen and garage, including a laundry room for a clothes washer and dryer, plus a built-in ironing board. In the same area, a washup toilet, mud closet and storage for games and outdoor toys.
9. An oversized two-car garage

FLOOR PLANS: The good traffic pattern on both floors is augmented by a series of luxury extras, including three fireplaces and a breakfast or coffee room between the kitchen and rumpus room. Study on first floor can be used as a fifth bedroom if desired.

MASTER SUITE: Owners' bedroom, in foreground, combines with sizable sitting room, in rear, to produce a suite, complete with fireplace, split bath and two closets, one a walk in.

Theologian Asks New Attitude On Judaism

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP) — A major shift in Christianity's theological view of Judaism is urged in a new study. It says Christians should recognize that Judaism, although not accepting Jesus as savior, continues to be a divinely sanctioned instrument of salvation.

Judaism's nonacceptance of Jesus "falls within the sovereign purposes of God," says the Rev. Dr. A. Roy Eckardt, a Protestant theologian and specialist on the subject who advances the case for a basic reevaluation.

He calls Judaism the "star of redemption" and Christianity the supplemental "rays of that star" for reaching out to a pagan world.

He deplores Christian efforts "to convert" the Jews as a "fatal distortion of the structure of the history of salvation" and in veiled form, an "attack upon the essence of the Christian faith itself."

Enduring Covenant
He adds: "For if the Jewish people are not already members of the family of God, we who are Gentiles remain lost and without hope. The covenant in which Jesus the Jew ostensibly leads us would be revealed as a delusion."

But the divine covenant with Israel is "an enduring one," he says, and "all attempts to put it out of business by missions, however well intentioned, contradict God's purpose."

Dr. Eckardt, a Methodist and chairman of the Department of Religion at Pennsylvania's Lehigh University, has specialized in studying Jewish-Christian relationships for 25 years.

Timely Note

His new analysis, entitled "Elder and Younger Brothers," published by Scribner's, adds a timely note to the current observance of "Brotherhood Week," which continues through this Sunday.

It is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Dr. Eckardt calls for a basic change in the traditional Christian teaching that the church entirely succeeds Judaism as the "new Israel," leaving its predecessor outmoded.

As younger partner, the church can carry "forward Israel's sacred role" beyond Judaism, he says, but "the church does not annul the role of original Israel, nor can it ever, in human history, take the place of Israel."

End Anti-Semitic Tinge

Dr. Eckardt says "it is the Lord's faithfulness to His promises to original Israel that enables us to affirm theologically the peculiar and abiding integrity of the Jewish faith."

Only by such an affirmation, he says, can Christianity rid itself of its anti-Semitic tinge.

"There is no other cure of this plague, no other atonement for the dreadful crimes of Christianity against the people of God," he says.

"But neither is there any other way to establish and celebrate the unique truths of the Christian faith. Only a Jew (Jesus) could accomplish the miracle of opening the covenant to the pagan world."

The word "salary" comes from ancient Rome. Soldiers were paid "salarium" or salt, a commodity precious enough to serve as money.

Kelley Against Bar News Curb

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley says he is against American Bar Association recommendations that judges, lawyers and policemen restrict the public flow of information about criminal cases.

Kelley said he believes there is a delicate balance between the right to fair trial and the protection of a free press.

"It seems to me that this balance is best achieved without the compulsion of legislation, disciplinary machinery or hard and fast guidelines," Kelley said in comment on the bar association action.

The recommendations by a press-trial advisory committee were adopted by a voice vote Monday by the association's policy-setting House of Delegates.

Kelley instead advocated a continuing dialogue on a regular basis among the bar, the judiciary, the law enforcement community and the news media.

"What I am suggesting is a unified forum, not an arbitration panel," Kelley said.

Kelley said the guidelines proposed by the American Bar Association have not been adopted in Michigan.

Lawmaker Trip Publicity Asked

LANSING (AP) — A House member has joined two senators in calling for regular publication of the expenses incurred by legislative committees.

Rep. Philip Pittenger, R-Lansing, said he would introduce a resolution calling on House committees to report all spending by members on trips outside Michigan, with the information to be printed twice a month in the House Journal.

Similar measures have been introduced in the Senate by Sens. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, and Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids.

Your State Income Tax:

Lock Tells How To Use Short Form Tax Return

By CLARENCE LOCK
State Revenue Commissioner
Written for
The Associated Press

LANSING (AP) — If during 1967 you received taxable income only from wages, interest and dividends, you are eligible to use the state's new "short form" MI-1040a in preparing your Michigan income tax return this year.

You must use the more complicated MI-1040 if part of your income derived from rents, royalties, business profits, distributive income from partnerships or fiduciaries, or income from pensions or annuities.

We will look today at the short form, which most taxpayers probably will use, and consider the longer MI-1040 in a later article.

John Doe earned $12,520 in wages during 1967, while his housewife spouse earned nothing. The family savings account drew $44 in interest, and some U. S. Savings Bonds yielded another $20.

In the last three months of the year, Doe's total earnings came to $3,315. His employer has furnished him a statement showing he withheld $54.50 in state income tax payments from Doe's paychecks.

Finds Full-Year Better

Shall he pay the tax on the $3,315 earned in the last quarter, or on one-fourth of the $12,584 earned during the year? He divides $12,584 by four and gets $3,146.

Since $3,146 is smaller than $3,315, he will show a smaller income — and thus a smaller tax — by figuring his return on a full-year basis, using the boxes in column 2 of the tax return form. A person opting to pay his tax on his October-November-December income would use column 1. In either case, he would use only one of the columns and leave the other blank.

Onto line 5 goes the $12,584 total income of the Doe family ($12,520 in wages plus $44 in bank interest plus $20 from the federal bonds).

Doe did not receive interest from bonds issued by states other than Michigan or by their local governmental units, so he has nothing to report on line 6.

We will take a step-by-step review of the filling out of the short form for the joint return of a make-believe family of four.

Some Steps Skipped
On line 7 would go any wages, salaries, fees, commissions, tips, bonuses and other payments for personal services, and all dividends and other interest items not included in line 6.

Enter Exemptions
Doe now enters on line 12 the number of exemptions to which he is entitled. This must be the same figure used on his federal tax return, as shown in the box on line 25 of the state form he is using. He claims himself, his wife, and their two dependent children, for a total of four exemptions.

For this year, he multiplies the total by $300, the per-dependent exemption the law allows. In April, 1969, when he pays taxes on a full year's income, each dependent will be worth $1,200.

An extra $300 would be allowed this year for each dependent who is 65 or over or blind.

Doe's four exemptions this year total $1,200 (four times $300). When he subtracts this total from line 11 and puts the answer on line 13, he has calculated at last the amount which is subject to the Michigan tax.

Rate Is 2.6 Per cent
The tax is a flat-rate 2.6 per cent of line 13. To find out how much he owes, he must multiply the taxable income in line 13 by 0.026. In this case, the tax comes to $50.47.

An important note: The proper multiplier is 0.026. If you incorrectly multiply by 2.6, you will end up paying just 100 times as much tax as you should.

Doe has now determined that his 1967 state income tax is $50.47. But remember he has already paid $54.50, which his employer withheld from his paychecks during the last quarter of the year.

This turns out to be $4.03 more than he owes ($54.50 minus $50.47), and he may file a return and ask for that $4.03 back.

An interesting sidelight: The state owes Doe money, but less than $5. He is still entitled to it. But if he had wound up owing the state $5 or less, he would not have been required to pay it, or even file a return.

Return By April 15

If Doe had been one of a minority of taxpayers whose tax was not withheld, or who paid an income tax in some other state besides Michigan, he might have been able to make further subtractions on lines 15 (b) and 15 (c) before arriving at his Michigan tax bill.

By checking one of the boxes on line 18, Doe may indicate whether he wants the state to mail him his $4.03 or to keep it and apply it against next year's tax.

He should then fill in any other necessary spaces on the return and sign it. Mailed with the form should be a copy of the employer's withholding statement. Failure to attach this form will result in a rejection of his refund claim.

A taxpayer who owes the state money should also enclose a money order or a check made out to "State of Michigan" and mail the return by April 15 to the address shown on the back of the form.

Directors OK C&H Merger

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP) — Merger of Calumet & Hecla Inc. of Evanston into Universal Oil Products Co. was approved Thursday by directors of both companies.

The merger agreement is subject to approval by shareholders of both companies at special meetings scheduled for April 25.

Under terms of the agreement, each Calumet and Hecla share would be exchanged for three-fifths of a share of UOP common stock.

Approximately 2,135,000 outstanding common shares of C & H would be exchanged for 1,281,000 shares of UOP.

New State Capitol Governor's Mansion In $40 Million Plan

LANSING (AP) — Legislators would operate in "theater-in-the-round" chambers and the governor would live in a state-constructed residence under recommendations for a new $40 million state capital unveiled Thursday.

The recommendations, included in a more than 130-page report to legislators, came from a New York management consulting firm.

The report followed a six-month, $40,000 study authorized by the Joint Capitol Outlay Subcommittee, headed by Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint.

Lane said the recommendations would be studied along with three architects' proposals for new capitol designs. He said a new facility could be completed in about six years.

1,000 Car Park
Estimated cost of the new capitol would be $30 million, the company said.

Another $10 million would be needed for 1,000-car parking facilities, a governor's residence, architectural treatment of plaza areas in the capitol complex and furnishings.

The company said it would not recommend renovation of the old capitol.

"The cost of a new capitol building is $30 million, whereas renovations, additions and cost of temporary space (while renovations, additions and cost of temporary space (while renovations were being made) would equal $36.5 million," the company said.

Favor New Building
The report added that a survey of legislators showed 105 of 148 favored a new building, 33 favored renovation and addition of wings, three advocated no change and seven were undecided.

In the ultramodern "theater-in-the-round" chambers recommended, legislators are arranged in concentric semicircles around the House speaker or senate president pro tem.

The present chambers are set up something like a school room with legislators sitting at rows of desks facing an elevated speaker's chair.

Under the proposed plan, each tier of legislative desks would be higher than the one in front of it and desks would be equipped with picturephones, to link legislators with their offices and other areas of the capitol, and some system of electronic communication with the speaker.

Members now must stand at a microphone to gain recognition on the floor.

The plan calls for caucus rooms and legislative lounges—one just for legislators, the other also for visitors—adjacent to the chambers.

The plan, geared to top efficiency in the year 2,000, also forecast individual offices, private secretaries and administrative assistants for each legislator.

Now Have Cubbyholes

Some senators and a few representatives now have private offices, but the majority share cubbyholes with several other lawmakers.

The present governor's office, the report said, is too small for the entire staff, lacks a conference - cabinet room with enough space for news conferences and fails to provide privacy of access for the governor.

Under the company recommendations, the governor and the lieutenant governor each would have two offices, one for state occasions and one for regular work.

The executive office also would provide an elevator directly from the office to the governor's car, for security reasons, the company said.

The report said that although Michigan ranks seventh in population nationally and fourth in state expenditures in fiscal 1965-66, it is one of only seven states which do not provide the governor's living quarters.

Reed To Study Michigan Story

CHICAGO (AP) — Commissioner Bill Reed of the Big Ten, just returned from the Winter Olympics, said Thursday he personally will investigate charges by the University of Michigan student paper of allegedly illegal athletic benefits at Michigan and Michigan State.

Reed was in Grenoble, France, when the Michigan Daily broke a story claiming Wolverine athletes received discounts, free passes and part-time jobs at Ann Arbor business places and theaters.

The Daily later reported possible irregularities also at Michigan State.

Reed, a Michigan alumnus, said he would spend the early part of next week sifting the charges at Ann Arbor and East Lansing, Mich.

Meanwhile, John Dewey, assistant commissioner and Big Ten chief investigator, still is continuing his own probe at both schools and will return this weekend, Reed said.

Regarding the cases of Michigan and Michigan State, Reed said:

"We have two basic concerns. First, are there any systematic forms of financial assistance to athletes that may be possible violations? And second, were any of the alleged violations used as part of any recruiting inducement?"

McGee Carries Lead In Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Jerry McGee, carrying a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament, behaves just like a 23-year-old second-year pro.

— He watched the score board the good part of his fine round on Thursday.

— He scrambled like crazy on some holes just to save a par.

— He was almost speechless after finishing with a seven-under-par 33-32-65.

— And he expressed surprise when he learned he was the first-round leader.

McGee, a 150-pounder from New Lexington, Ohio, carded seven birdies and not a single bogey as he humbled the 7,200-yard par 72 Tucson National golf course.

"I'm a little speechless," said McGee, after he holed a birdie putt on the 18th hole to carry a two-stroke lead over Dean Beman, 35-32-67, into today's play.

A stroke behind Beman at four-under-par 68 were Steve Oppermann, Bruce Crampton, Dave Stockton and John Lotz.

Stockton, back on the tour the first time since he had a cyst removed from his right hand Jan. 31, returned to tournament play a week sooner than his doctor had expected.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer shot two-over 36-38-74 Thursday, nine strokes off the pace. He had trouble from tee to green over a course which gave him little trouble a year ago.

Fazio Leader In Keg Tourney

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Ageless Buz Fazio of Delton, Mich., rolled up a 68 - pin lead after three rounds Thursday in the Professional Bowling Association's $40,000 Sertoma open.

The 60-year-old Hall of Famer moved to a 3,906 total for 18 games after shooting 1,318 in Thursday's six-game session.

Elvin Hayes Puts Name In Books; Cougars Down Arlington, 130-75

By The Associated Press

Elvin Hayes, the Big E, whose All American play snapped UCLA's 47-game winning streak last month, has put his name in another niche in the college basketball record book.

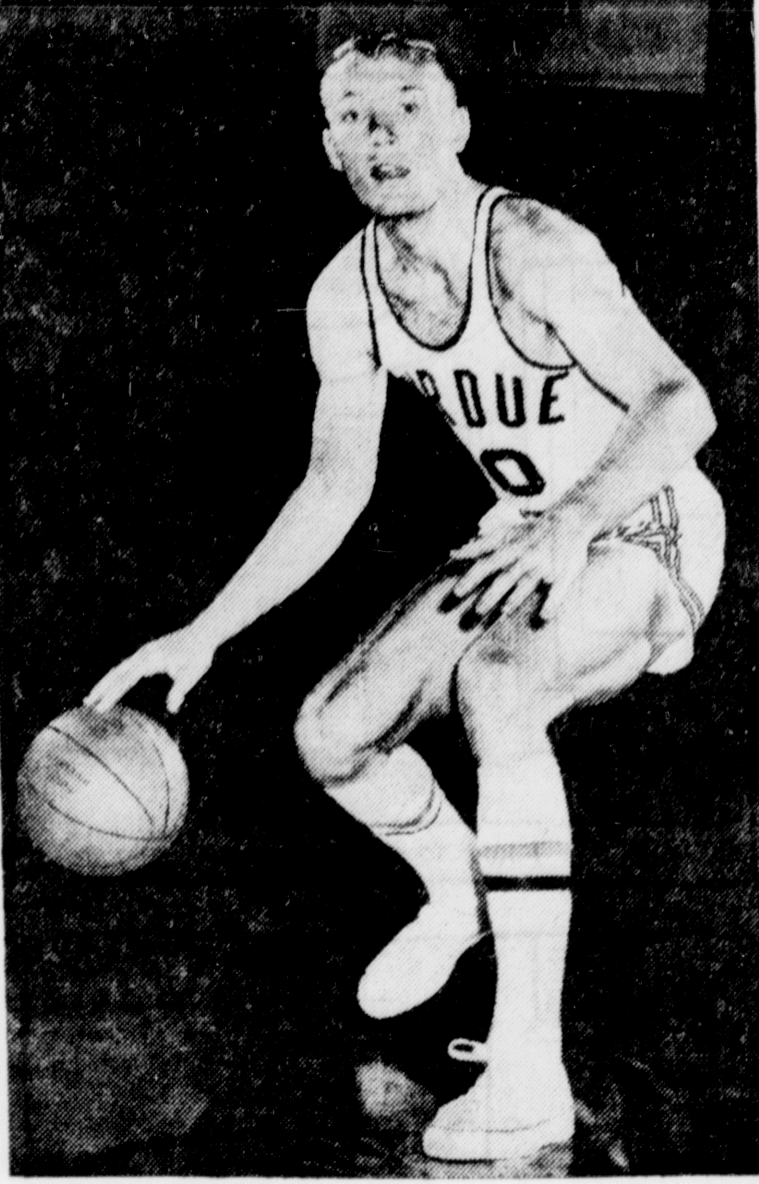

The 6-foot-8 star of top-ranked Houston threw in 44 points and grabbed 21 rebounds to pace the unbeaten Cougars in a 130-75 romp over Arlington, Tex., Thursday night.

His performance not only helped the Cougars to their 25th straight, 24 this season, and to their 54th in a row at home, but made the Big E the third leading career scorer in the record book for a three-year period.

In moving up to third place with a career total of 2,325 points, 855 this season, Hayes passed Elgin Baylor's 2,500 at Seattle and Bill Bradley's 2,503 at Princeton. He needs only 14 more points to pass Frank Selvy's 2,538 at Furman.

Oscar Robertson is No. 1 on the career scoring list with 2,973 during his undergraduate days at the University of Cincinnati. Dickie Hemric of Wake Forest is listed as second, but he needed four years for his 2,587 points.

CHICAGO (AP)—Another juggling of the top echelon in the Big Ten's dizzy basketball title race looms Saturday with Ohio State's invasion of Purdue for an afternoon television attraction the key game.

The Buckeyes are hanging onto the lead by their fingernails with a 7-3 record. Purdue, unbeaten at home this season, shares second place at 6-3 with Iowa and Northwestern.

The Boilermakers, headed by league-leading scorer Rick Mount with a 30.4 average in conference competition, should be favored over the Bucks if the home floor advantage ratio holds up. The home team has won 34 of 47 Big Ten games this season.

Ohio State, also undefeated at home, earlier smashed Purdue 108-80 in Columbus, Ohio.

In another afternoon encounter, Northwestern (6-4) is at Illinois (5-4). At night Iowa (6-3) is at Indiana (3-6), Michigan (2-8) at Minnesota (3-7), and Wisconsin (5-4) at Michigan State (4-5).

Sophomore Mount has a comfortable scoring margin over second-place Sam Williams of Iowa whose average is 25.6. The Big Ten's record average is 33.9 set by Ohio State's Gary Bradds in 1964. Mount would have to average 40 points in his remaining five games to match it.

Mathis Plans Ring Strategy

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (AP) — Big Buster Mathis said Thursday that Joe Frazier makes "plenty of mistakes and I'm going to capitalize on them when we get into the ring for the big fight."

That bout comes off March 4 for New York and Massachusetts recognition as world heavyweight champion at New York's Madison Square Garden. In the other featured fight on the card, world middleweight champion Emile Griffith risks his crown against Italy's Nino Benvenuti.

Before boxing six rounds at his camp here, Mathis commented on remarks made by his opponent in the last few days. Frazier said he has more confidence now than he had when he lost twice to Mathis in pre-Olympic amateur fights in 1964.

"He's stupid if he doesn't think I've improved a lot since then, too," said the 245-pounder from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Frazier, training in Kiamisha Lake, N.Y., boxed five rounds and looked sharp.

Griffith, sharing the same training quarters with Frazier, boxed four rounds.

Sorry Wings Lose Another

By The Associated Press

Goalie Roger Crozer picked the wrong time to be in the wrong place—and another desperate hour ended in instant grief for the hapless Detroit Red Wings.

Boston's Johnny Bucyk scored with one second to play and Crozier 15 feet out of his cage Thursday night, giving the Bruins a 3-2 National Hockey League victory over Detroit.

The last-second victory sent the Bruins past idle New York into third place in the East Division. The loss dropped the last place Red Wings 15 points out of playoff contention.

Montreal edged St. Louis 2-1 for its eighth straight victory and Philadelphia slammed Minnesota 7-3 in the only other games on the NHL schedule.

Bucyk drilled his 25th goal into a wide-open net after Crozier stumbled while trying to clear a carom off the backboards and wound up on his knees to the side of the cage.

Gordie Howe scored his 28th and 29th goals for the Wings. Johnny McKenzie and Phil Esposito also connected for the Bruins, who lead New York by one point and trail second-place Chicago by three.

The Canadiens squeezed past stubborn St. Louis on second-period goals by Gilles Tremblay and rookie Jacques Lemaire. Craig Cameron scored for the Blues late in the final period, but Montreal goalie Rogatien Vachon held them off in the closing minutes.

Montreal has won 20 of its last 21 starts and leads the East by eight points.

Leon Rochefort scored the hat trick, with rookie Andre Lacroix assisting on all three goals, as the Flyers increased their West Division lead over second place Minnesota to five points.

Lacroix, recently called up from Quebec of the American League, also banged in a goal and Claude Laforge. Forbes Kennedy and Pat Hannigan completed the Philadelphia scoring. Milan Marcetta hit for two of the North Stars' tallies.

Eskymo Matmen Down Munising

The Escanaba Eskymo wrestling team won its 11th match out of 12 starts this season with a 36-13 decision over Munising.

It was the last match of the season for the Eskymos. They now move to the U.P. finals at Marquette, March 2.

"Multiple use" has become a standard term in conservation practices. A lake should provide swimming, fishing and boating. A forest: camping, hunting and lumber. A marsh: fur and wildfowl.

The antis refer to sportsmen in very unpleasant terms, as cruel killers, lusting for the blood of innocent creatures. There is a serious conflict of interest, with the threat of legal court action to curtail such activities as fox hunting and shooting driven birds.

New Battalion Thrown By Reds Into Hue Battle

Pilots used radar to guide them because of the murky weather. Other strikes were aimed at two radar sites 85 miles northwest of Hanoi and at highways and storage areas in central and southern North Vietnam.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived in Saigon, presumably to determine whether the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam should be increased above the present allotted quota of 525,000 because of the setback dealt by the Communist offensive against South Vietnam's cities and towns and the threat to Khe Sanh and the other Marine posts along the demilitarized zone.

Informed sources in Washington said the callup of 50,000 National Guardsmen and Marine reserves is one of several options being considered.

Ice Plow May Lengthen Lakes Shipping Season

BY DAVE ANDREWS

A new ice breaking plow being tested in Green Bay this week by the U. S. Coast Guard may eventually result in lengthening of the navigation season on the upper Great Lakes.

Lt. Comm. Gordon Hall, Cleveland, district project officer, said Thursday in Escanaba that extension of the navigation season is one of two purposes for the tests.

The other, he added, is simply to improve efficiency in ice breaking operations which have not substantially changed since 1944 when ice breaker designs were improved.

"If we could find a way to extend the navigation season even two weeks at the end of the season and to open two weeks earlier in the spring it would mean a great deal to commercial shippers," he said.

Currently, navigation in Little Bay de Noc ends about the end of December and reopens in the first week of April. The bay is closed to shipping about three months.

Mesquite Ran Tests
Hall said, however, that if the new "ice plow" can be successfully developed it would be easier to keep a shipping channel open, possibly even on a year-around basis.

Iron ore shippers from the Chicago & North Western dock in Escanaba and also suppliers for oil terminals in Little Bay de Noc have expressed interest in year-around operations.

The plow being tested — the same one tested earlier this winter with the cutter Mesquite on runs from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to Menominee — is mounted on the bow of the 110-foot harbor tug Ruritan out of Milwaukee. The Mesquite is providing escort service.

A prototype designed and developed at Kingston, Ont., by Scott Alexander, the vee-type plow has an exaggerated nose which runs in under the ice, creating pressure upward. Hall explained that there is some thought that the ice might break easier this way.

He also pointed out that the vee-type construction of the plow is designed to push ice to the side, leaving the broken channel open.

Arrive Monday

The current method of ice breaking used by the Coast Guard is for vessels like the cutter Mackinaw to power on top of the ice, using the weight of the ship to break it. The problem with this method, Hall said, is that the broken ice remains in the channel behind the cutter and is prone to freeze again.

Both the Ruritan and Mesquite are operating in field ice in Green Bay. Several miles off shore off Fuller Park.

"We came into the ice Monday night and reached Minneapolis Shoals Tuesday," Hall said. "We've been operating the past couple of days in 13 inches of ice, although there are spots up to 25 inches."

Hall said a Coast Guard helicopter was used earlier this week to land on the ice in various locations to allow test borings of ice thickness.

No Success Yet

As of yet, however, the plow hasn't worked up to expectations, Hall said.

"We think we're lacking speed," Hall explained. "The thickness of the ice is so great that the vessels we have can't achieve enough speed to make the plow work."

"The designer is of the opinion that decreasing the angle on the plow might help," he added. "The plow is rather blunt and as the ice comes up it tends to pile in front of the plow."

Hall also said that there may be a better ratio between horsepower of the vessel and tonnage.

The Green Bay area was selected for the tests on the basis of past experience.

"We felt Green Bay was the area where we would have the best latitude of ice conditions and also where the ice would form the soonest. There are three types of ice — field ice, field ice with moderate windrow and shore ice of the type found along the eastern shoreline of Lake Michigan."

"The field ice would provide the easiest conditions and we haven't been able to make a go of this so we haven't gone into the other conditions," he added.

Physicist Involved

Involved in the operations is ice physicist Gunther Frankenstein of Dartmouth University, who several weeks ago was called to Thule, Greenland, when a U. S. Air Force jet bomber crashed with hydrogen bombs aboard; Project Officer Roderick Edwards, Washington, D. C., and the skippers of the two vessels, Lt. Comm. Gordon Dickman of the Mesquite and Chief Warrant Officer W. T. Pierce of the Ruritan.

The Ruritan is instrumented to provide data on how fast the vessel is going, horsepower developed, amount of thrust and amount of progress on each thrust. The Mesquite, Hall said, is acting like a "motel" for the men.

An ice shanty and snowmobiles are also being used in the experiment.

'My Fair Lady' Final Tryouts Set Tonight

Final speaking and singing tryouts for the musical "My Fair Lady" to be produced this spring by Players de Noc under the direction of John A. Romstad and Marie K. Peterson will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. today in room 105 of Bay de Noc Community College.

Interested persons should report to room 104 where vocal books and a recording are available. Persons should use the S. 11th St. and 8th Ave. S. entrance to the college.

Unlike tryouts for previous plays, only the two directors are in the room during auditions. The auditions last about 10 minutes, Mrs. Peterson said.

The script for "My Fair Lady" requires a cast of at least 70 singing and speaking roles. The directors today encouraged all Earbushoppers, members of church choirs, former Orpheus and Sweet Adeline singers and any adults interested in singing and stage experience to tryout. The 30 speaking roles, male quartet and three choruses are for adults. There are no children's roles.

50 School Votes Not Recorded

Votes of 50 people who turned out to vote in the special millage election of the Escanaba Area public schools Tuesday were not registered on voting machines.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said today that although a total of 4,574 persons registered for the election and their names were recorded on precinct poll books only 4,524 ballots actually were cast on the proposition.

He said the 50 votes "lost" all came from machine precincts and included 17 from Ford River Township.

He said that it is believed the voters made errors in using the machines, although it is possible that some persons turned out to maintain voting records and purposely did not cast ballots.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey, former city clerk, said that it is possible for a person to enter a voting machine and get out of the machine without recording a vote.

Harvey said that if a person enters a machine, depresses a lever on the question and then pushes the lever back to its original position the release mechanism on the voting machine has been activated and the voter can exit the machine.

By depressing a lever and then returning it to its original position, however, the voter nullifies recording of his vote. The lever must remain depressed for the vote to be recorded, Harvey said.

The official canvass of the election, Barrett said, failed to produce noticeable change in the result.

An additional "yes" vote and three more "no" votes were added to totals in Precinct 5 (Junior High), and three more "no" voters were added to the Precinct 7 (Webster School) total.

Barrett said the official result was 1,828 votes in favor of the proposal and 2,696 votes against.

The proposal by the Board of Education asked approval to levy seven mills additional tax for a two year period for school operating purposes.

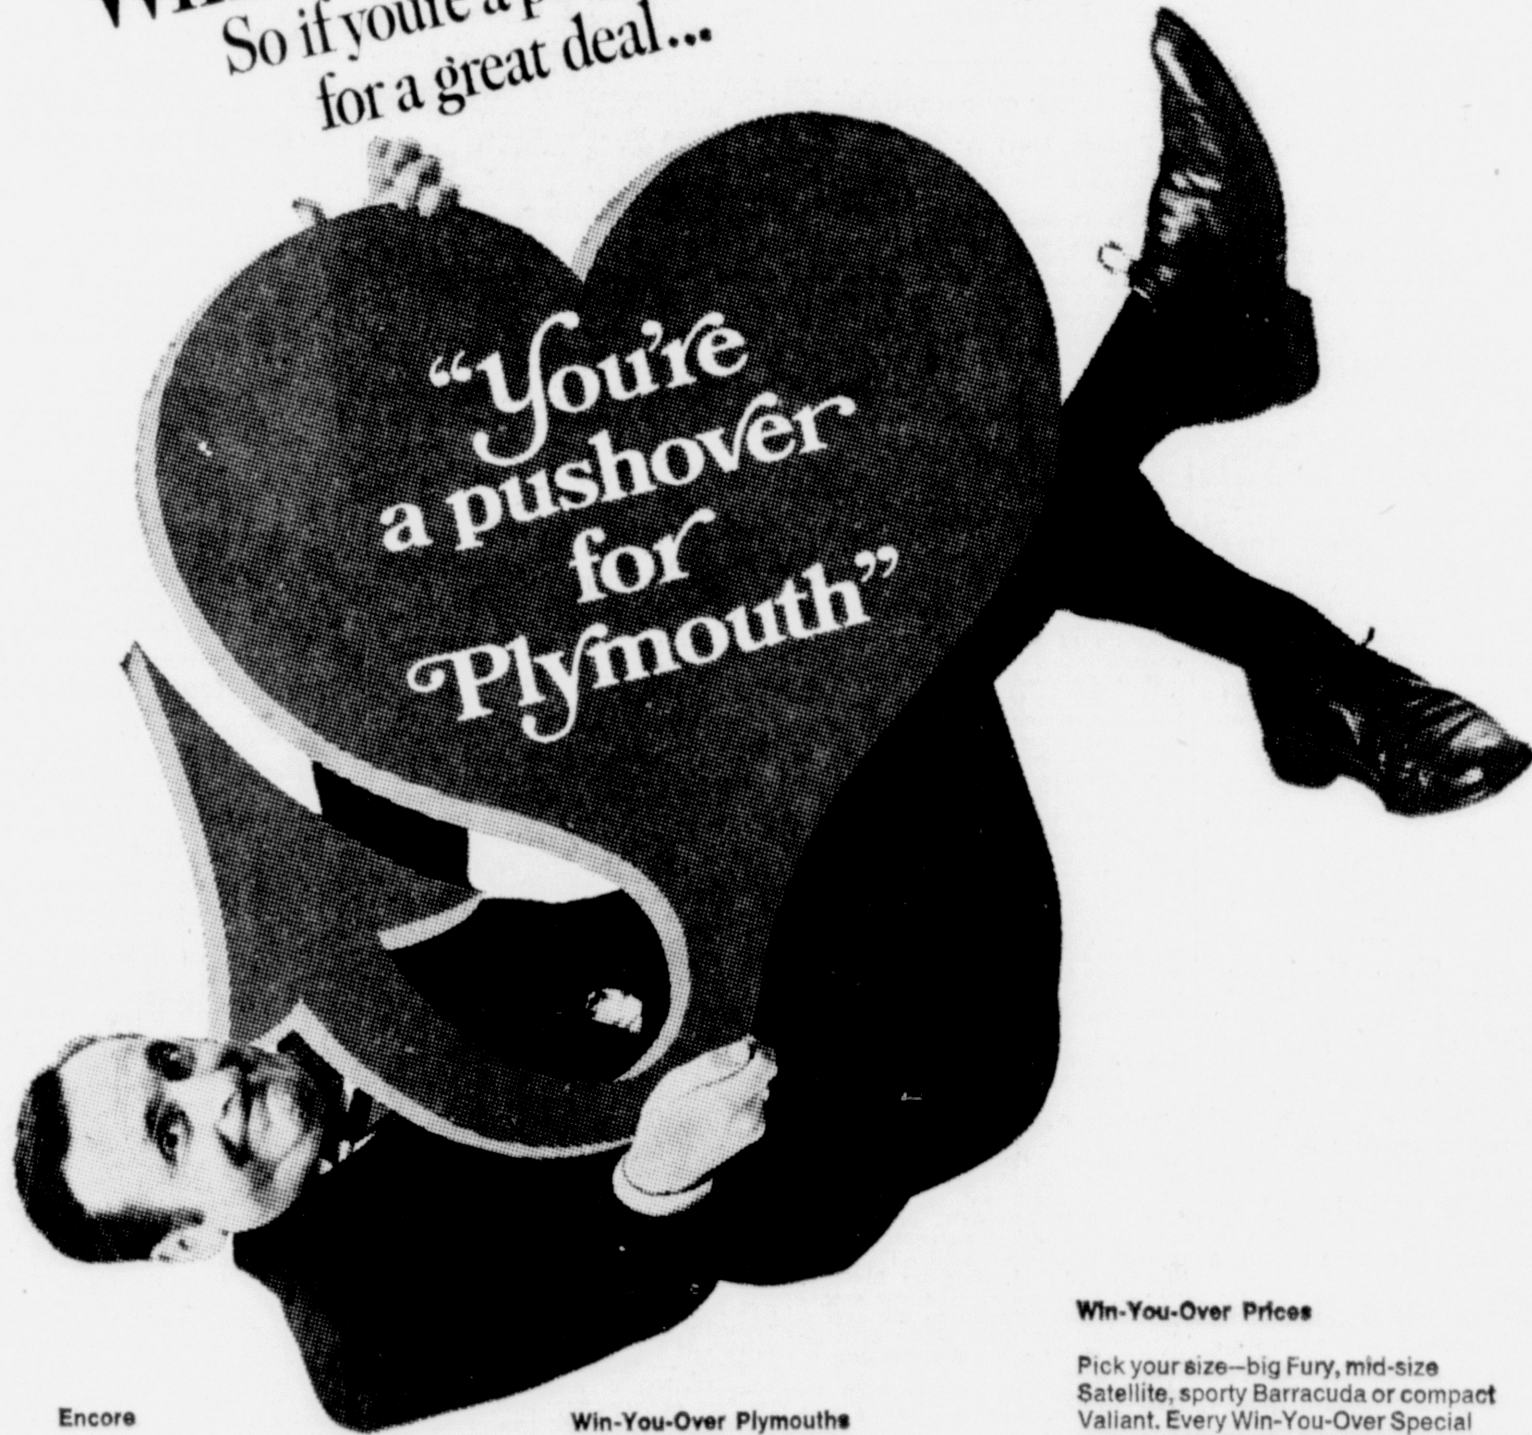

Carnival Statues Stressing Peace

MARQUETTE — The hope for worldwide peace in the next century is reflected in the Northern Michigan University snow statues being constructed as part of its annual winter carnival.

Six of the 18 snow statues, which are taking shape to meet the requirements of the festival's theme, "21st Century," have the word "peace" in their titles. And the meaning is inferred in at least five others.

The public is invited to view the snow statues beginning Friday night.
